Reopening of the African Slave Trade.

[Washington Correspondence of the N. Y. Herald].

The consequences of the reopening of the African slave traffic are already beginning to be sensibly felt in the Southern States. Difficult as it is to get at the truth in a matter where all concerned are directly interested in maintaining invigibable secresy, I do not hesitate to refterate my conviction that every aylable I wrote to you a few weeks ago, in relation to the landing of large cargoes of imported "savages" on the coast of Florida, was strictly correct.

In conversation, within the last thirty-six hours, with the very United-States Sountor who gave me a large portion of the facts which I cumerated under the date of July 10, I remarked that they had been universally discredited, and seemed to be borne out by but scanty evidence in the Southern papers. He replied, "Nevertheless, every word I told you was substantially true, and all doubt about it will have evidence in the Southern papers. He replied, "Nevertheleas, every word I fold you was sub-stantially true, and all doubt about it will have passed away from every mind before the 15th of December next." He added that the si-lence of the Southern press was a signal proof that the accusations he had made were well founded; that they did not dare to stulrify them-selves by denying what every intelligent South elves by denying what every intelligent Serner knew to be the truth; that if the Heremarks had no foundation, there would An account which appeared on the 23d ult. in the St. Augustine (Fla) Examiner admirably il-lustrates the manner in which slaves are treat-ed, even when notice of them is given to the proper federal authorities. It seems that the dereates the manner in which slaves are treated, even when notice of them is given to the proper federal authorities. It seems that the Deputy United States Marshal, upon being informed that such a vessel was off the coast, made inquiries which resulted in his "hearing of no slaver, and only a rumor that negroes had been landed to the southward." Proceeding in that direction, he found that "about six weeks previous four asilors had reported that they were part of the crew of the schooner Experiment, had landed a cargo of Africans near Jupter, and breached, the vessel." The Depaty Marshal did not, of course, find at that late hour in the day, any sign of niggers or ship; and the editor of the Examiner closes his account by saying: "At any rate the birds had flown before he got there. We understand that more are expected shortly." So light a watch is in fact kept along the coast between Key West and Pensacola, that "rumors" of the landing of slave cargoes may be considered to travel or the state of the course of the caution is thought to be violated by the newspapers in boasting that "more are expected shortly;" neither is the traffic commented on with the slightest sign of surprise or disapprobation.

I have no doubt that time will develope some pots are to be found, Charleston, Memphis and Columbus have been named to me by a person whom I think trustworthy and reliable, who informed me that he had visited them, and that he had seen altogether, in these three places, about nine handred imported blacks. He said that it was notorious, throughout Georgia and Alabama, six weeks ago, that quite a fleet of slarers was expected to land cargoes within a month or two in one of the Florida inlets not far from Key West. You will recollect I told you before that a gentleman of the most undoubted

HEAVY Loss .- We learn that yesterday after noon, at the Wells street depot, a valise, con-taining besides clothing, valuable papers, notes etc., amounting to between $5,000 and $6,000 was stolen from a passenger named Fowler, residing in Lavingston Co., N. Y. THE UNION PARK MYSTERY -A few days since the body of a small infant was found expose near Union Park, yesterday afterboon. A young German woman named Kattrina Kent was arrested, charged with being the unhappy last. And he said that lifs estimate of the num-ber of cargoes of "savages" that had been suc-cessfully transported into the interior, within eighteen months, was between sixty and seven-ty. Supposing each ressel to contain, deduct-ing loss by death, two hundred and fifty blacks, the late increase of slave population at the South by importations from the coast of Africa must have been over fifteen thousand. Startling as these facts must appear, and increduious as many readers may be concerning them. I have not ventured to communicate them to you with-out heins fulls, any mother of the castaway. I should add that four out of five, perhaps nine out of ten, of the planters at the South are alarmed, as well as inecused, against those who are endeavoring to nullify the tederal laws prohibiting the slave trade. The more asgacious political leaders, meluding Col. Jefferson Davis, A. H. Stephens and others, recogn, see that every Southern politician who identifies himself with the traffic must eventually be swamped by the indignation of the resp. clable slaveholding citizens of the older Southern States. Only a few desperate ultraists, like Brown of Massissippi (1 am not sure but he stands alone.) count, by encouraging the introduction of "sarages," upon the support of those midding and lower classes who hitherto have not been able to possess negroes, but now look forward with exultation to the day when they shall have "darkies" to wait on them as well as their betters. Brown even hopes that his seal for the traffic may make him President of the United States. Douglas makes a similar calculation on account of his zeal against it. miles.

The Journal learns that it is the intention of the club to have two regattes during the Na-tional Fair in September, when some splendid prizes will be offered, in order to induce some canal, a notes assumer, outs by them after a patent recently obtained by Mr. Benjamin Baring, of this city. She is named the tiold Hanter, and is the most curiously contrived craft yet placed upon the Canal. The idea of the invention is to make the propeller—the steamer—a distinct and separate thing from the freight boat, and yet have the two identical so far as practical unity is concerned. This is accomplished by building a diminuity tug, of just sufficient capacity to hold the engine, machinery and fuel of a canal steamer, and then cutting a recess or long notch in, the stern of a canal boat, just large enough for the queer looking little uig to fit into it like a plug. The space taken out of the sand boat to admit the propeller is no greater than would be occupied by the machinery and fuel, it hose were placed directly in the boat. In the experimental case of which we are speaking, this recess is sixteen feet long and seven and one half wide, and the tug is of the same dimensions within a few inches,—fitting as snugly as is compatible with an easy and ready removal,—ang has a depth of hold of eight feet. Her engines and boilers are of an uprysit pattern, constructed by Messra. Shepard & Co. The engine is of twenty horse power; the cylinder of twelve inch hore and stroke: and the propeller distinct and separate from the boat, over an ordinary steamer, are numerous and seemingly indisputable. In the first place the submerging of the wheel is not at all dependent upon the draught of the boat. The weight of the engine and tuel sinks the tug to a safficient depth for the submerging of the wheel, and it matters not whether the boat with which it is united be loaded or light. In the second place the submerging of contract conomical consideration, of one engine, by this plan, performing at least the work they propel. While loading and unloading, a canal boat is kept tild in port from three or four of the yachts from the lower lakes to try their sailing qualities with Chicago yachts. A full programme will be published shortly. McLEAN Co. DIRECTORY .- John C. W. Bailey, of this city, a veteran in the Directory busi-ness, has just issued a neat little volume as full of information, as an egg is full of mest, concerning the rich and flourishing County of Me-Lean. It is just the volume our merchants who may desire some ready and accurate means of intelligence thereaway, should possess, containing as it does the name, occupation and address ing as it does the name, occupation and addre and its adjacent towns and villages. A Nusance.-Great complaint is made, and justly, of a class of our citizens whose nocturnal labors are more useful than savory. From the insecure and ricketty condition of their wagons, inscent and receiv condition of their wagons, they leave traces of their night journeys along our streets, a trail the nose of a brass knocker might follow, and no pleasant accession to our summer atmosphere. Instances also occur too frequently, where their avocations are begun at too early an hour in the night. Will some one look to these artillerists?

THE BULLS AND THE BEARS IN THE POLICE terday morning as defendants to suits instituted against them for obstructing the sidewalks on the approaches to Clark street bridge. Our city readers cannot fail to have noticed, and many have doubtless suffered inconvenience from the practice of grain operators, chiefly the brokers in congregating at certain and several hours each day on the sidewalks above-mentioned, in such numbers and such utter abandonment to their own calling as to frequently render it necessary for pedestrians, ladies and others who desire to pass them, to turn into the street. Probably in this case it would be difficult to adjust the blame, and still more difficult from the reputation of the many of these gastlemen to ascribe any intended nuisance to them. Nevertheless, nuisance it is, and has so been considered by many citizens, and more thin shat was a pronounced in the Police Court yesterday by Justice Millken, who fined several of the parties $5 and costs. We hope this practices of our grain man will be given up, or at least shortered.

It is said that the same competi-tion is to extend to the State Street route—om-nibusses to run every five minutes. Though severe weather for horseflesh, all facilities for sidewalks, now, is the season when three cent rides will do more for bodily comfort than three rides will do more for bodily comfort than three cent drinks. ARIBALDI AND HIS MOVEMENTS

THE NEW ITALIAN CONFEDERATION.

It is reported that Count Walewaki has submitted a plan for the Confederation of Italy. It is to comporise seven States, and the Presidency is nominally given to the Pope, but is reality to the Kings of Sardinia and Naples alternately. The strong places to be garrisoned by the Federal troops, are Gaeta, Mantus and Piacenna. The votes in Federal Diet, according to the proposition, are to be divided as follows: Parama one; Modena time; are Pope into Tusany two; Sardinia three, Naples three.

Geara Barrary — In the House of Lords, Lord Lyndhurst defended himself from the charges of Mr. Bright on account of the warning voice he raised, and asked if the admiralty were aware chat the French were arming their fleets with rified cannon.

The Duke of Somerant replied in the affirma-he raised, and asked if the admirally were aware that the French were arming their facets with rified cannon.

The Duke of Somerset replied in the affirmative, and said that although England; had improved cannon in progress of manufacture, they could not be ready for some time.

In the House of Commons, Sir De Lacey Evans moved for the appointment of Commissioners to enquire into national defences and report what improvements were possible. It is understood that the government has assented to the substance of the resolution. The government, however, would not assent to the motion, but were willing to appoint a committee to enquire what permanent fortifications were necessary for the defence of the dock yards and arsenal.

Sir Lacey Evan's resolution was negatived.

The Prace Conference—Nothing of moment had transpired in regard to the Conference at Zarich, nor is it known whether Sardinia would take part. A despatch of the 25th from Rome, however, says that the representatives of the three powers were expected to meet at the end of July.

It was vaguely rumored in Paris on the 25th, that Napoleon would visit London.

The London Duily Nesse believes that, although the scheme of the Italian Confederation may not have been formally strick off this programme, it is not now insisted upon by its author,—that little more will be heard of it.

The French ficet had sailed from and it was reported that a portion of the French army had begun to leave Italy
Count Fersigny had arrived in Paris from Loudon. It is said that he took with him an assurance that England would give her adhesson to the Congress on condition of immediate and general disarmament.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times is informed that the English Government has just offered to send a representative to the Congress, provided France disarms,—that the French Emperor agreed to do so, on condition that England did the same,—that England consented on condition of a general disarmament by land and sea—that France will begin the movement, and that the English Government is very well satisfied with the conduct of the Emperor.

The Independence Beigs gives a report that the proposition for disarmament proceeded in the first instance from Napoleon.

It is asserted that a military convention between France and Austria, relative to Italy has been concluded, and that Lombardy is to take a fair share of the national debt.

The Paris Moniters of the 20th contains the following.

Le Norde says that one of the first acts of the new Ministry will be to put an end to the present dictatorship, and frame an electoral bill applicable to Lombardy. A dissolution will then take place in order to effect, in new chambers a complete fusion of Piedmont and Lombardy. The King will preside, and the Parliament set in alternate years at Turin and Milan. The Turin journals say that the army, reinforced by recruitments in Lombardy, is to be raised to 200,000 men.

Arrival of the Overland Mail.

Sr. Louis, July 7 .- The Overland Mail arriv Sr. Lours, July 7.—The Overland Mail arrived last night.

A fire occurred at Creacent City on the 9th; loss $30,000.

New gold and silver mines discovered in Washoo valley, promise to pay well.

Three arrivals from Victoria within a week brought upwards of $13,000 in gold and 500 passengers. The latest dates were to the 19th. Frazer River had fallen sufficiently to permit the resumption of mining on the bars.

The Victoria Gazethe says the yield of the mines within a year has been $3,000,000.

An arrival from Oregon on the morning of the departure of the mail, brought advices indicating the election of Logan, Republican, to Congress, by 20 to 30 majority.

Horace Greeley had arrived at Salt Lake City.

The foreign news by the Nova Scothan circis but little discussion, and is generally favorably construed.

The foremost of the Western Stocks were Galena, Rock Island, and the two Michigan Roads, Canton feil i, Delaware & Hudson i. The transactions in State Stocks were larger to-day, especially in Mo. 6's, which are i per cent. better. Tenn. 6's were also a shade higher. The Supply of money among stock brokers is quite free to-day at 6 per cent. on good collateras, but the rate of discount is evidently hardening. The transactions in prime acceptances, asy 60 days, are at 6'd? per cent, with more deling at the outside rate, gilt edge notes baving three and four months to run are '@f' per ct. The opening business in Exchange for the Boston mail indicates a dull market, with a declining tendency. The leading drawers are asking 110! on Loddon, and 5'lst on Paris, but few sales are effected. Good bank bills are obtainable at 110@110!.

Nothing farther been done in Eric affairs. Directors have another meeting to-morrow.

The weekly bank statement is not completed, the figures of two small banks being wanting. Taking last week's figures of these two, the specie shows a total of $20,078,805, against $20,764,564 last week. A decrease of $685,759. ALBANY, August 8.—It has leaked out here by what means the famous letter of Gov Wise came to be published. It appears that the letter was written to a confidential friend of Gov. Wise's, residing in New York. That gentier was written to a confidential friend of Gov. It was a recent visit to Albany, while he conversation with some members of the regency, found those parties hostile to Mr. Wise, on the ground of his intimate relations with Fernando Wood, and the control the ex-Mayor was supposed to have over him. The gentleman who is a highly honorable man, and perhaps not mart enough for the intrigues of the regency, incidentally stated, in a spirit friendly to Gov. Wise, that he knew the imputations against him to be unfounded; but he would not be credited, unless the produced the proof, where the confidence who asked permission to lay it before Dean Richmod. This was demurred to, except upon the solemn assurance that it should not appear in the proof of the proof.

regency, and probably with the knowledge of Mr. Cas.idy hamself.

Judge Douglas Writes another Letter.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The letter from Judge Douglas to Cel. Briton covers two points—Naturalization and African Slave Trade—substantially as follows:

There can be no difference in the degrees of protection accorded by Government to native naturalized citizens. Our Constitution recognizes no difference in this respect. If a person can expartiate himself from a foreign Government and swear allegiance to this, and still owe anything to the foreign power, he is in the singular and incredible predicament of owing allegiance to two countries.

The Constitution was a creature of compromise, and the African Slave Trade was the subject. South Carolina and Georgia wished to mise, and the African Slave Trade was the sub-ject. South Carolins and Georgia wished to continue it. Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jer-sey and New York wished to terminate it. New England was passive in the matter. South Car-olina and Georgia finally carried their point of continuance, to the vear 1808, with the under-standing that it should then end. It therefore became the vital compromise of the instrument itself. In this view Judge Douglas declared himself to be irrevocably opposed to the re-opening of the African Slave Trade. Tennessee Election. Nasurulas, Aug. 7.—Harris (Dem.) for Governor has about 6,000 m-jority. By advices just received there, it appears that Juarez declines siguing the treaty without the approval of the Mexicus Congress, and one cannot be called until the Liberals obtain possession of the city of Mexico. This, however, is not the only difficulty. A conspiracy was discovered as the capital on the 11th nlt. The plan was to assassinate the Governor and take possession of the Government.

The Chicago Times has requestly spoken of the Democrats of Kentucky as being Douglasites, and as occupying his Squatter Soversignty unfriendly platform. How much truth there is in this pretension, was above during the recent canvass in that State. On several occasions, the third the Consention and Marcoffin, the Demo cent canvass in that State. On several occasions, thell, the Opposition, and Magoffin, the Democratic candidate, addressed the people from the same stump. Bell sevemed himself in favor of protecting starebolders in the Territories by the enactment of a Congressional Stave Code and greased his opponent to define his position on the subject. Magoffin dodged for a time, and claimed that a Stave Code was not necessary, as the Supreme Court and Administration would give the requisite protection to slaveholders, against the intermedding of the Squatters. But a repudiated as heretical and anti-Democratic Douglas Freeport doctrine of unfriendly legislation. Bell nest asked him if he would support Douglas for President, provided he got the Charleston nomination. This question Magoffin at first utterly refused to answer, giving as a reason that if he did it would lose him perhaps REMANEX.—The criticism of this writer, whose candur and courtesy distinguish ham from the average of upologists for the Papal system, would have had more force if directed Chemistry and microscopes have come to the id of Mr. Hamilton, the Superintendent of the nd have proved beyond dispute that the fa nous Collier emendations of the text of Shaks-peare are a forgery from Alpha to Omega. The old folio in which the alterations, corrections, and stage directions of the Collier Shakspeare were made, having been presented to the late Dake of Devonshire, and by his son placed in vere made, having been presented to the late Dake of Devonshire, and by his son placed in the hands of Mr. Hamilton, has now been subsected to such tests as no forgery can pass through without detection. The link has been analyzed in a laboratory, the erased pencil marks have been brought to light by the microscope, the points of contact between old and new marks have been traced by the same agen oy, and the result is the discovery of the greatist literary forgery of modern times—as far ranscending Chatterton's Roseley, Macpherson's Octava, and Ireland's Foreigern and Roseena, in the mapber and respectability of its dupes, as the feath of Mr. Munre Edwards surpass those of the cammon bungler in other people's autographs. That there might be no room for the apology or escape of the guilty party, whoever he is, the examiners of the folio analyzed the antique unt, and found it to be no link at all, but a brown flid paint resembling ink which had become almost obscured by age. Thus the Collier emendations of Shakspeare are good for nothing except to excite the surprise of future generations that so many good and wise people could have been deceived by them.

English Income Tax.

The grievance of which the malcontents complain in the matter is this—that the same per centage is extracted from the yearly income of a man who derives it from landed estates, or Government securities, a species of property as sure as the ground he treads on, and in no way dependent upon his health, or his exertions, as from that of a man who carns his living day by day, and who loses it by sickness, and whose family are consigned to destitution by his death. In other words, a clerk with a salary of £200 a year, or a lawyer earaing £200, is taxed at the same ratio as the Marquis of Westuninster, who draws £100,0-40 from the ground rents of Belgravia. There is between the two cases the mornious difference of certainty and uncertainty; between the propurtion levied in each, and the manner of levying it, there is an difference whatever. This has long proved a standing ground of quarrel between the landed interests and the liberals. It is the middle and the working classes, of course, who find reason to complain of the mode of raising the tax. The aristocrasy have no fault to find with it, except that it is levied at all. The consequence, is, that every time it comes up for discussion it complicates the old feud, which is already fed by so many treal grievances.

Some one has oroposed to the Archbishop in repit that the Roman Catholics should assume the support of their own papers as well as the education of their own children, but this they are not so willing to undertusk. dapted to rural pursuits, that agr strongly has this impression gone forth, that another fact, that the State has also in an emid ment degree the actual fundamental elements of manufacturing wealth, has been either overlooked or forgotten. The Fox and Rock Rivers are rapid streams, pouring their large volume of water over beds of imeasione and affording extensive water power at numerous pointa. The Mississippi at Moline is capable of building up a second Lowell, while at the centre and south part of the State, coal is so cheap and abundant, that it becomes an active competitor with the water-power of the north; hence our State offers to both the agriculturist and the manufacturer, advantages second to no other part of the Union. These facts have been fully demonstrated at our several State and County Fairs, and next months at Freenort and Chicago. ent degree the actual fundamental elem manufacturer, advantages second to no other part of the Union. These facts have been fully demonstrated at our several State and County Fairs, and next month at Freeport and Chicago, will be again advertised to the world. It is but a few years since nearly all of our agricultural implements come from the East, at a heavy could be fact at a heavy county. barvest, as other resper factories have had the same good success.

The machines are shipped by the car load, eighteen making a car load, thus giving farmers the advantage of low freights. The price of reapers is too high, but the high price of ash timber, and the patent fee has been a serious drawback. But the worst of all is the long credits. These are alike ruinous to the farmer and the reaper maker, and should be reduced to case; and we would then see less of them rotting about the fields than now; besides, no one would purchase without the machine was needed, but now the long credit tempts too many to purchase when they should change work so as to have their neighbors cut their grain. We know hundreds of farmers who can reapers who could hire their grass and grain cut for less implements came from the East, at a heavy cost implements came from the East, at a heavy cost of freight. We made vain efforts to use their cast-iron-plows, heavy harrows and crude reapers, but the prairies required richer gifts from the hand of genius, and the inventive mind of the West was called not active utilitarian effort. The result is the cast-steel plow, that glides beneath the rich prairie mold burying beneath the made furrow the graces and effects executive. mple furrow the grasses and refuse vegetation hat go to enrich the soil and make it ready for that go to enrich the soil and make it ready for successful cropping. Respers of every form and pattern go forth from our shops, is sweep down the harvests of the world. Wherever has golden grain waves down the sunny slopes of temperate or tropical climes, there is the reaper, bearing the proud name of Illinois, to gar ner its wealth of food. We need not enlarge of this point, and have only said this much to cal the attention of our farmers and mechanics to the preparation making for our next State Fair, to be held the first week of September next. the preparation manny for our next State Fair, to be held the first week of September next.

A few days since we paid a visit to the Fair Grounds at Freeport, with a view to make a note of the preparations, and the prospect of success. The grounds selected are a mile, or perhaps a little less, southeast of the Depot, and among the late improvements, is the Armstrong gar.

It is claimed for this gan that it is the most perfect, and most effective gan that has ever been invented, and it has airculy carned a knighthood for its inventon, I propose to give you my little experience in this class of gus. Some sixteen or eighteen years ago, when Capt. Shocton proposed to forge his big gun of wrought iron, my attention was particularly called to this subject of welding large masses eiron, not that there was any prospect of soccos in forging this gun as proposed, but from certain well known practical difficulties it must in evitably prove a failure, as it did. It was vereally to tell how it could as the done; but to te how it could be done, was strictly a person question, which I immediately set myself ahor question, which I immediately set myself ahor and could be done, and strictly a person question, which I immediately set myself ahor are well adapted to this use, are easily reached on foot, being within the city limits. The en-closure contains fifty-three acres, four or five of which are covered with a young grove, affordng ample shade, at the same time it is well set with grass, making it a pleasant retreat. About ing ampie shade, at the same time it is well set with grass, making it a pleasant retreat. About two thirds of the prairie is well set in June grass and white clover, the remainder is in farm erops, affording a good opportunity for the trial of plows, it rues, drills, seed-sowers, and field rollers, the trial of which have been either wholity ignored, or but partially attended to; but it is hoped that this occasion for a thorough trial of these implements will not be again neglected. The trial of these implements within the Fair Grounds is a new feature, and cannot fail of good results.

The steam plows will be tried on the grounds, but this cannot be fully completed, as prairie breaking will form the most thorough test of these new implements, and the trial will in consequence be adjourned to Urbans, Deca ur and Centralis, when the final award will be made. A slough traverses the Fair grounds, making two pretty slopes for the exhibition, and an excellent place in which to test the ditchers. The trial of these will be quite spirited, as seeward parties have given notice that the $500 premium offered by the Illinois Central Railroad Company is to be warnly contested. A large engine is to be put up for the trial of machinery requiring stationary power. To give a full description of the buildings would require too much space. Saffice it to say, that the fencing and buildings will require half a million feet of spine lumber in their construction. The stalls for live sheep will occupy vary the entire circumference of the grounds, and make a walk of how it could be done, was strictly a persons question, which I immediately set myself ahou to answer, and really I found so many difficulties in the way that I tried many devices to avoid the necessity of welding such large masses of iron, as for camon, only one of which I will describe, here, which will go to show at least an extraordinary convenience. I proposed then, in order to combine the greatest amount of strength with the least amount of strength with the least amount of material to form a tube of suitable dimensions, either of wrought iron or cast steel around when I proposed to shrink a series on beated bands, from end to end, when another iter of bands would be shrank over the first, acc as to break joints, and so on until the desired strength be attained.

Here then we have the Armstrong gun, practically and anostantially the same; the only difference being in the waysher of hopping or bandand buildings will require half a minion tees or pine lumber in their construction. The stalls for live sheep will occupy nearly the entire circumference of the grounds, and make a walk of a mile to look in on their occupants. The trotting and show ring is one fourth of a mile in circumference, and enercies the highest point of the grounds. The editorial rooms are large and to be well furnished; the officers having wisely concluded to take the members of the press under their especial care, and will not only see to their feeding, but give them every possible facility to make up such reports as they may desire for their renders. We have no doubt that these courtesies will be duly appreciated, and that more extended reports will be the consequence. As sleeping rooms will not be over abundant on the grounds, those having camp beds would do well to take them along, using the rooms at night for lodging. President Elisworth desires us to request editors, both from tically and substantially the same; the only dif-ference being in the messace of hospings of band-ing this tube. Sir Wm. Armstrong using a continuous band or bar of iron wound on hot from one and to the other, and then back, and thus continued until sufficient strength is ac-quired. Whiteh of the two plans is the best could only be known by practical test, which I feel no interest in now, as I think now as thee, that there are some doubts about the practi-cality of either invention under extraordinary circumstances not necessary to mention now, and inasmoch as there were some doubts in my mind upon this mole for construction, to say nothing about the expense, I did not feel all beity to bring it forward, besides I was con-stantly under the impression that the great prob-lear now to forgel large masses of wrought from or steel, without injuring its quality in a single casses of iron or steel, or both combined, an will leave it to you to say, whether or not, olived this problem satisfactorily. Without going into the exact details by while accomplish has (to all the same states of the best proper to state here what I can all one in the same same in offers through rival at the business ounce, was the provided for in the selection of grounds, one feature is wanning to make it perfect, and that is a heavy belt of tumber on the north and west side, in case of high winds or a cold storm, to ward off any unpleasant effects that might accidentally THE BATING DEPARTMENT is under the charge of Messrs. In short, I can forge any of wrought-iron or steel, as in gins or into one solid homogeneous mass, who part and parcet of said mass shall be anto one soind non-geneous mass, when every part and pareel of said mass shall be as perfect as the best hammered iron or seed, and more perfect in its texture and tent extended iron of commerce, and this can all be done by one man in necessary. Being able to accomplish all of this, I am prepared to make a gun as much superior to the Armstrong gun as the Armstrong gun is superior to the ordinary gun, far superior in strength and durability, lighter, and at least fifty percent, cheaper!

I do not make these bold statements and assertions, thinking to carry conviction to the mind of every one. Knowing full well all the prejudices and suspicions that naturally exist in such cases, I am prepared to meet them; and not for all the wealth and tilds that Sir W. Armstrong may ever acquire, would I make a statement under this head that could not be verified.

There are one or two more very singular concessions in regard to this gun, tha may come up at some future day.

Vandewater's Recently Improved

Jonval Turbine Water Wheel.

OFFICE S. SOUTH CLARK STREET, CHICAGO. I offer this Improved Curtains Water Wheel to the public with the fullest confidence and assumance of its with the fullest condidence and assurance of his

Superiority Over All Other Wheels,

Without any exception. They are well shapted to (and have been tested in) Mills of all descriptions. They give a very steady and uniform speed, and are well adapted to very

the line wery for the state of this. They will work are not, troubled with ion, as they are set inside of the torse to gearing to equ up a high speed; costs but little to set up, and runs upon a step that seeds no ciling, and will has fix years. This wheel is capated of yielding a power of from ing to the degree of faish of wheely under high heads and falls, and it all cases it is warranted to work up to the power laid down in the table, and to give satisfaction when prop erly put up and geared.

I shall be happy to exchange views with your correspondent "B." if he will consent to join issue with me on the same question. The meaning or pertinency of his strictures on my former article, I am unable to comprehend. He says: "The Constitution of the United States prohibits the establishment of a religion as a governing power." The issue which I offer, is: What does the Bible, the Constitution of God's government, require of His subjects? Does "B." mean to any that "the Constitution of God's government, require of His subjects? Does "B." mean to any that "the Constitution of the United States prohibits" the Almighty from "establishing a religion as a governing power" in His kingdom, or His mortal subjects from obeying such power? The issue I dier recognizes the divine authority of the Bible, as was announced in my former article. Does "the Constitution of the United States prohibit" a discussion of the question on that basis?

"Construct as you may like, this Sunday question" says B, "is a question of religious toleration, and nothing else?" Is the law of God a foe to religious toleration, and nothing else?" Is the law of God a foe to religious toleration, "construe it as you may like," I trast our friend will reconsider his position.
